SUBJECT: CTE Resources

Greetings Colleagues:

We would like to alert you to a new resource page for career and technical educators and administrators: here.

Effectively, the site functions as a new clearinghouse of career and technical resources. The page is organized by relevant topics, including distance learning, curriculum, work-based learning, career exploration, access and equity, and professional development. This page will be updated regularly and serve as a central repository for access to resources that will strengthen the delivery of CTE in Florida's classrooms. Please suggest to have additional resources added by emailing Perkins@fldoe.org.

Additionally, you may be aware of the refresh of our division website, see here. While we have many improvements still yet to make, we hope it is more user-friendly, intuitive, and accessible. If you have any difficulty locating a resource, report, or correspondence, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Best,

Henry
